STATE NEWS

INSPECTS NATIONAL GUARD.

Major J. M. Arrowsmith to Look Over Battery and Co. H Tonight.

Salt Lake, March 22.—The govern-ment inspection of the National Guard of Utah begins in this city this even-3-2-tt ing, when the First battery and company H will be put through their pace by Major J. M. Arrowsmith of the Fifteenth infantry, who was detailed by the war department to inspect the state troops this year. Tomorrow evening the field, staff and band of the First infantry and the hospital corps will be inspected and the Signal Corps and company C will be inspected Wed nesday evening, which completes the inspection in this city. Ogden will be next visited, where company B will be inspected. An excess of 400 men will probably be shown this year, a higher number than in any of the years past. It is necessary to show more than 300 men in order for the state to participate in the appropriation of $2,000.000 made annually by the federal government for the support and maintenance of the militia.

TWO DAGGERS FOUND

IN CITY JAIL CELLS Jailer Makes a Startling Discovery While Going His Rounds.

Salt Lake, March 22 .- Jailer Wilkinson made a startling discovery in a couple of cells on the first floor of the city jail this morning and is now wondering whether or not a jail break and an attempt to murder has been under contemplation among some or the prisoners. While going through the various cells this morning, after the chain gang of 40 prisoners had started for their work, he found two daggers, keen edged and murderous looking, concealed in cells on the first floor. they came there, who put them there and for what purpose they were intended, of course he does not know. In any event they are now in a place where they will do no damage. An effort is being made to learn where they came from and what prisoners sneaked them into the fail. In former years the discovery of deadly weapons in jail, especially just before election time, was quite common, but coming now it is regarded as something quite out of the ordinary.

State street Later in the day Patrolman Griffin earned that she had purchased a bottle of carbolic acid from a local concern and he came to the conclusion that it was probably with suicidal intent. With this theory in his mind, he notified Lieutenant Hempel and was instructed to go to the girl's home and look into the matter.

Arriving at the home, Patrolman Griffin informed the girl's people of his suspicions, and a search revealed a bottle of carbolic acid concealed in

Lieutenant Hempel said Monday night that the department had not een furnished with the girl's name nor the exact address of her home, except that it is on South State street. That she purchased the carbolic acid with suicidal intent is considered probable, owing to her peculiar ac-

GIVES BOND WITH CURRENCY THAT IS YELLOW WITH AGE.

Los Angeles, March 23 .- "Judge, give ne one minute," pleaded Tonica Gara, when his bail was fixed at $1,000 following arraignment yesterday on a charge of assaulting George Storan with a deadly weapon last Friday Garja was allowed the time asked for and more.
